In Memoriam

Wherever He may guide me,
 No want shall turn me back;
My Shepherd is beside me,
 And nothing can I lack.
His wisdom ever waketh,
 His sight is never dim,-
He knows the way He taketh,
 And I will walk with Him.

Jane Stilson Champlin

In Jane Champlin our school found a teacher and a friend. As a teacher Jane inspired and guided her students and brought to them an understanding of the value of music. She was known to all by her first name; this was one of the symbols of affection attributed to her. As a mother Jane was an outstanding example to those who knew her. Five children are her great memorial. The entire community is indebted to Jane for her years of service. She was a loyal member and organist of St. Paul's Church. Other organizations relied upon her to furnish music for community functions. As the years pass Jane's influence will remain a powerful factor in our community.

Cynthia Ann Maurer

Cynthia was one of our most outstanding students. Her intellect was a source of pride to her parents, teachers, and friends. A scholarship winner, Cynthia found knowledge a spring to be tapped. Her abilities were topped only by her character. Respected and well-thought-of by her classmates, Cynthia was most dependable and loyal. The Seniors will never forget Cynthia, a star in their class. We are humbly proud to have known her.

Sue Ellen Worden

Sue is remembered for an eager willingness to serve our school. Her work in the many organizations was invaluable. She was always willing and capable of assisting in any task. We remember Sue as a stalwart of the school band, a member who was always there. True popularity was accorded Sue for her quiet and friendly manner. Her devotion and helpfulness for her large family were well-known. Sue holds a place in our hearts for those virtues which we all found in her.

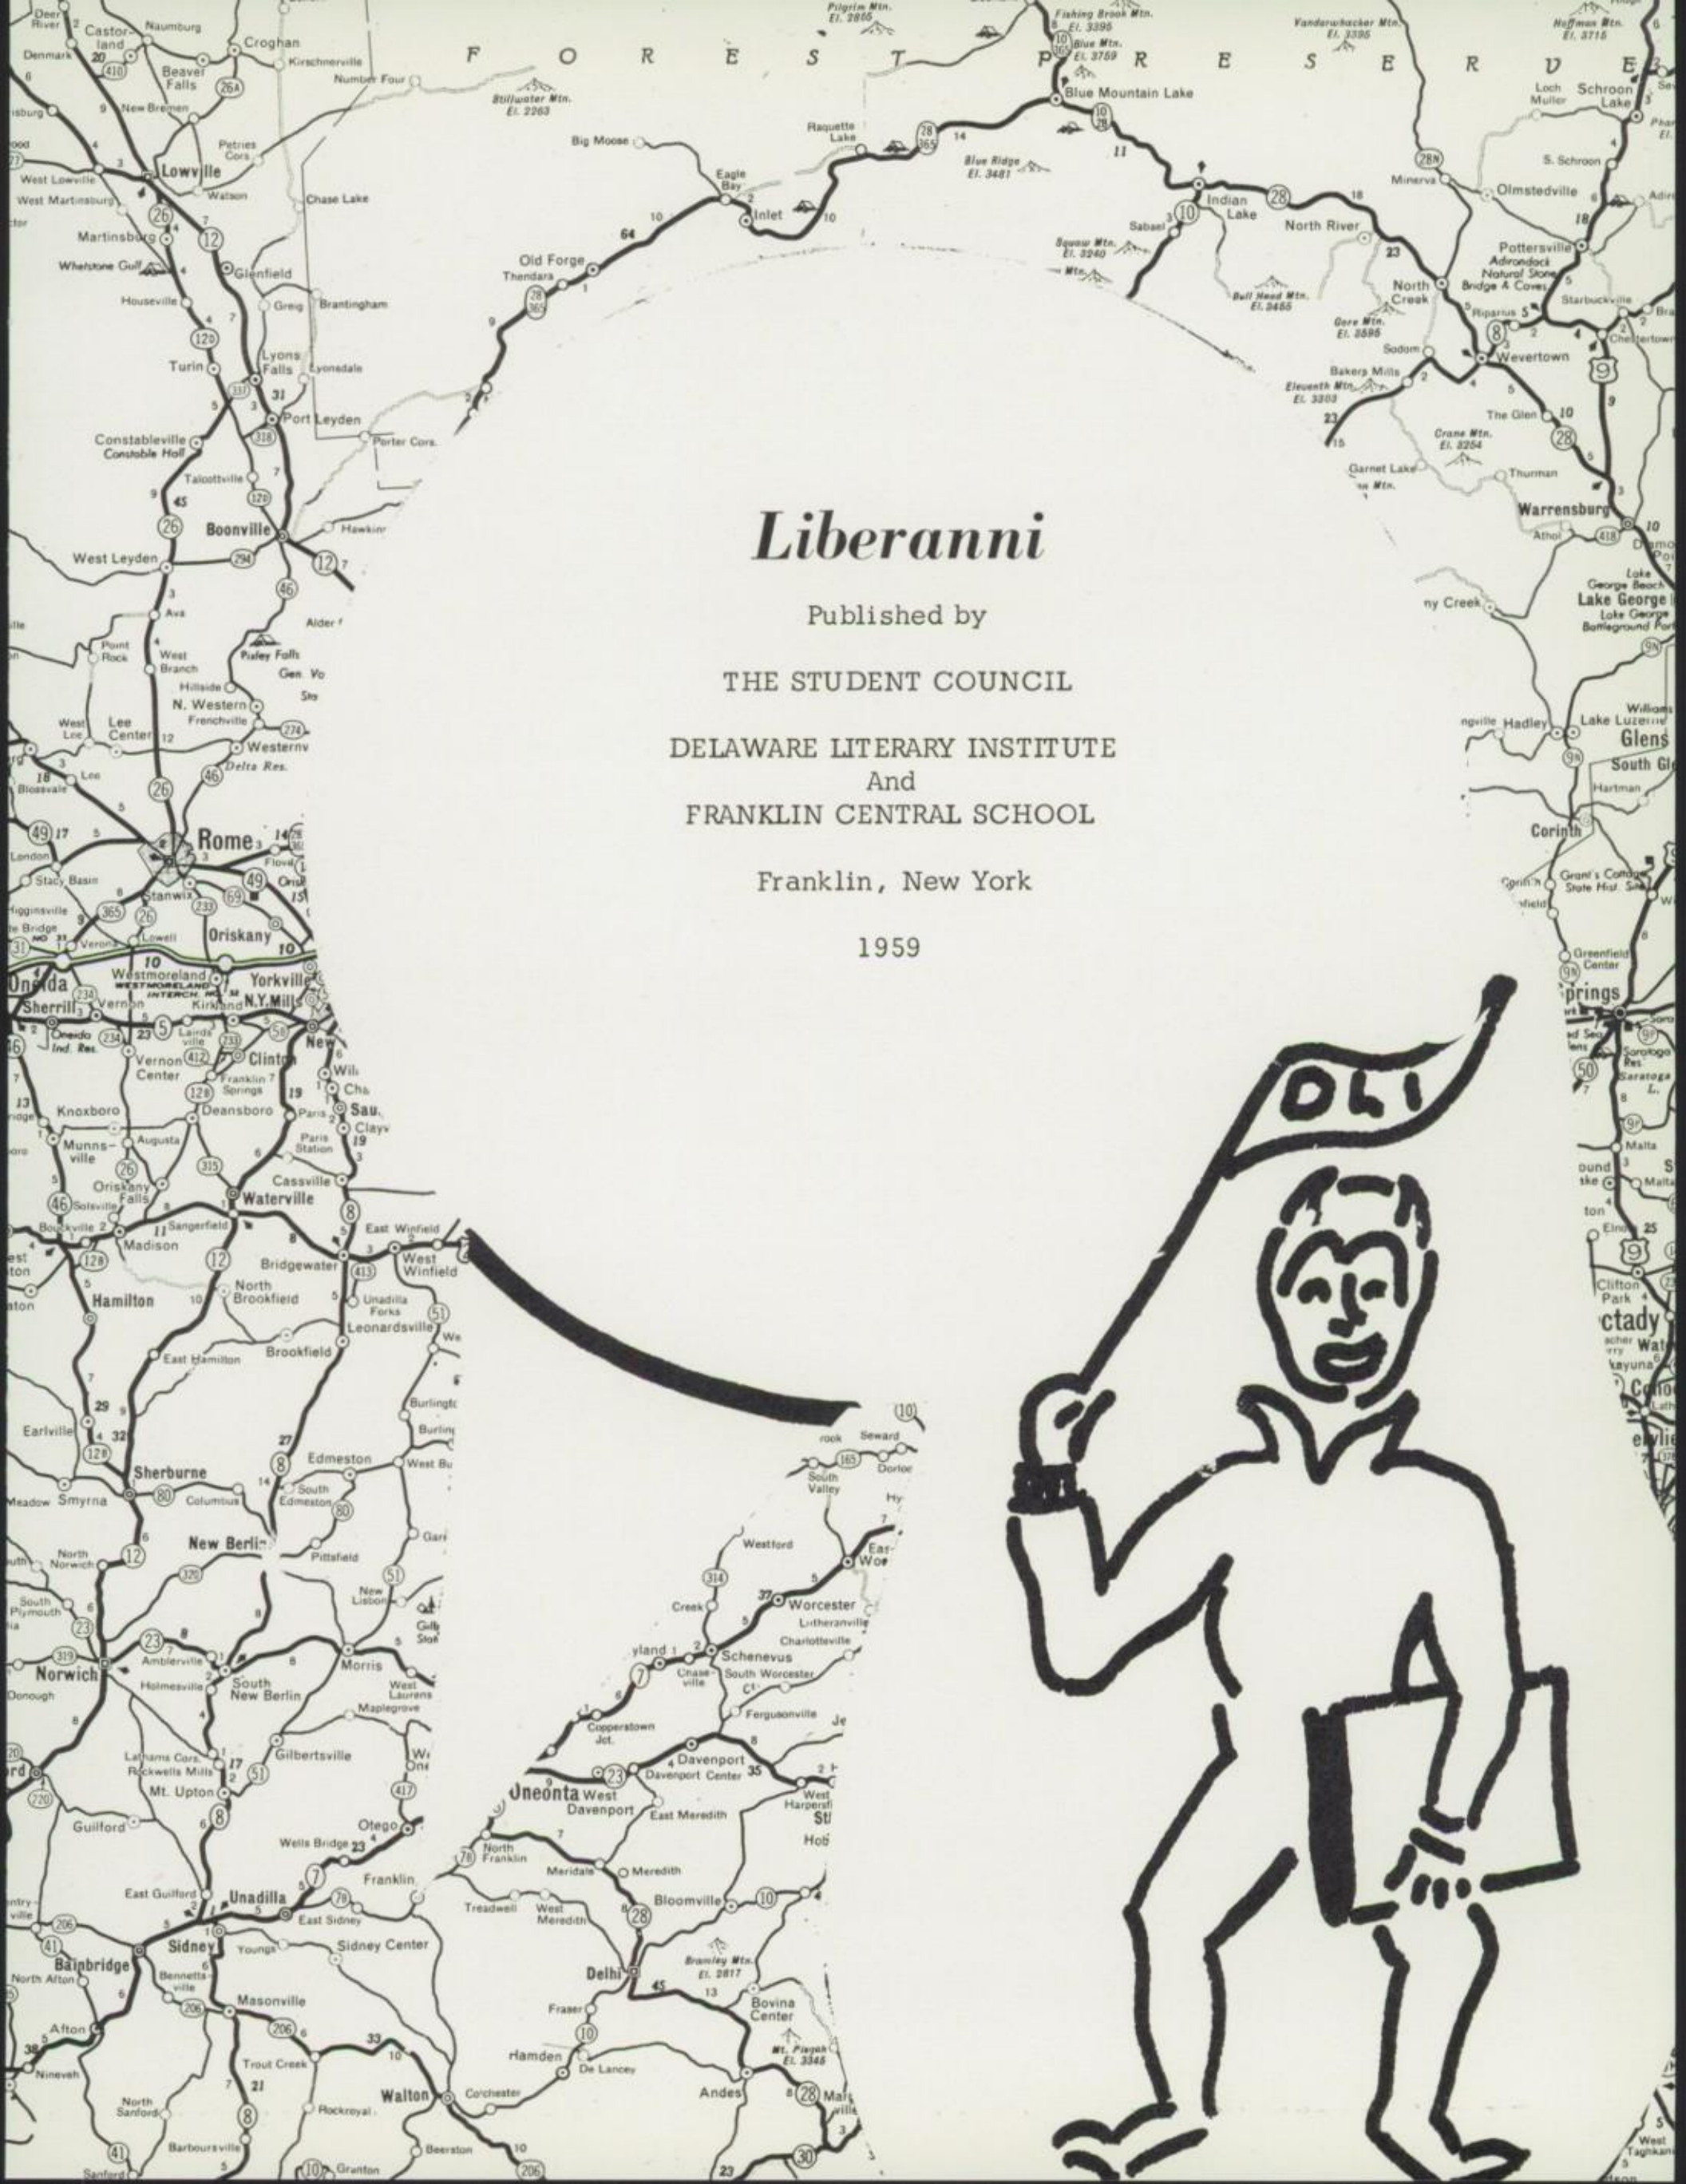

William Walter Odell

Billy occupied a definite place in our school as a person of diverse talents. Through numerous plays he was acknowledged our star actor. As a musician his talents were developing into real ability. Outside of school he was an ambitious young farmer with livestock of his own. Bill was one of the best liked boys in school. His superb sense of humor, good manners, friendliness, and handsome appearance were the marks of personality plus. In effect Bill remains an ideal for those who knew him.

"The music in my heart I bore,
Long after it was heard no more."

Foreword

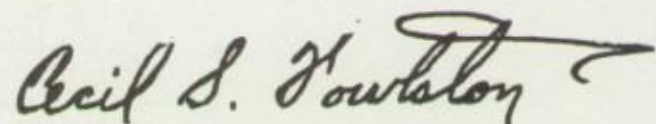

Another school year has passed and once again we students look back--down the many roads we have traveled during our journey through D. L. I. The many scenes we have witnessed and learned from have been the road signs that have guided us on our journey. With Nicky our school mascot as guide, we turn the pages of our '59 "Liberanni" and relive again our itinerary and our experiences.

Principal's Message

This year we will be observing the one hundred and twenty-fourth commencement at Delaware Literary Institute and Franklin Central School. It has been a difficult year for students and faculty. In addition to the tragic accident, we have had many other problems requiring adjustments in our school program. I am very appreciative of the way you have worked together to overcome these difficulties and maintain as high an educational standard as possible.

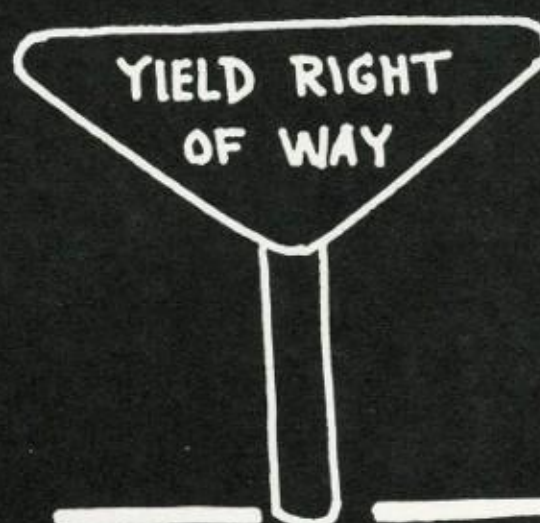

For the seniors this is your final year at Delaware Literary Institute. I sincerely hope you are prepared to assume your responsibilities for the years ahead.

The staff of this year's "Liberanni" and the student council are to be congratulated for the production of this fine yearbook.

March 1, 1959

To the friends and students of D. L. I.:

This year the Student Council started an extensive program to build up our student government. To accomplish this aim the Council has followed a six-point program:

1. Reorganizing the student government
2. Improving school spirit
3. Enlarging the 1959 "Liberanni"
4. Planning for the 125th anniversary of D. L. I.
5. Scheduling the school calendar
6. Helping with the school fair

We hope that this work may be expanded in the future and that you will support it as a step toward a better school.

Respectfully yours,

Senior Prophecy

Good evening, everyone! This is Edward R. Morrow, bringing you "Person to Person." Tonight I am taking you to the 10th reunion of D.L.I.'s Class of 1959 at the Stork Club. Assembled here you will see some remarkable persons who have gained world-wide fame for their deeds.

At the first table are Joy, Pat, and Lilivene. Joy is telling of her experiences as owner of the Dear Joy Dress Corp. in Los Angeles. She says that her associates are designing exclusive dresses for her three daughters. Pat interrupts to tell us that she wishes that Richard Norman, who is on the moon as a result of his successful moon rocket, would come back to Earth long enough to invent a diaper changer for her growing family of four boys. Lilivene, while taking notes for her social column in the "Herald Tribune," remarks that Joan Miller isn't here tonight as she is doing secret service work in Russia. Joan is hot on the trail of a top soviet official.

At the next table we see Jack, Jerry, Jimmy, and Howard. Jack is telling the other boys about his position as Secretary General of the United Nations. Jimmy interrupts to tell Jack about the job he is doing in Burma. He is working as a soil technician under the U.N. Jerry and Howard are talking about their experiences. Jerry is a General in the Air Force and works in Cape Canaveral. His latest missile can do a figure eight. Howard is a State Trooper and has taken over Rod Cameron's place on TV.

Ruth, Franny, Sue and Joanne are relaxing on a lounge. Ruth, now a nurse, and Sue, a physical therapist, are discussing some of their unusual cases at the Walter Reed Hospital. Franny, now a medical secretary, describes the cute doctor she is working for. Joanne says that her girls' gym class has won the state tournament in soccer. Sandy and Al come over to join them and to show off their brood of six little Shavers. Al has decided that he will definitely have junior partners in his company, the Shaver Construction Company. Edee joins them. She tells the girls she is an undefeated contestant of the "Keep talking Show" on TV. Edee tells Sandy that she has decided Palmer Baby Food is the best for her children. They have heard that Chuck Palmer has a staff of cute secretaries around him all day. Al remarks that George Westfall has a squad of St. Bernard dogs to rescue lost sightseers in Switzerland. These dogs are known world-wide for their expert rescue work.

Jean, Francine, and Joan Thorsland are sitting at another table. Francine is known from coast to coast on "Francine's Bandstand," a rock-n-roll show that keeps her jumping from Hollywood to New York. Jean, who owns a chain of well-known supermarkets, has a specialty this week on Brown's Brown and Serve Rolls. Joan is reminiscing about her wonderful college days. She is telling about the time she received the "Classy Campus Queen" award. Jean interrupts to tell everyone that Betty Shaver couldn't come tonight. She has found an Argentine gaucho, and they have a large horse ranch in Argentina.

As we are about to leave, we have a few words with Mr. Fowlston, their principal. He remarks that this class has made themselves known in the world.

And now, from "Person to Person," "Good night and good luck."

Varsity Basketball

The 1958-59 season was an improvement over last year for our varsity squad coached by Mr. Kalinowski. With the lack of height and experience the team's record was 6 wins and 11 losses over all with a 1 to 9 league record. With many of the squad returning for next year the basketball future for the Purple Devils looks bright.

Mrs. Law's multiple class in French and Latin.

MULTIPLE CLASSES AND CORRESPONDENCE COURSES

In small schools there are some subjects that do not have a great demand. In order to offer these subjects, small schools use combined classes. Two or three small groups of students take different subjects in one room at the same time under one instructor.

Mrs. Law has taught multiple classes for some years, and has been chairman of the Project study group on multiple classes. At the present time, she has a multiple class

D. L. I. Pioneers In The Work Of

For the past two years D. L. I. has participated in the Catskill Area Project in Small School Design. We are one of the twenty-two original member schools. This organization is financed by the Ford Fund for the Advancement of Education. Its main purpose is to search for ideas that will improve education in rural secondary schools.

Dr. James Allen, Commissioner of Education for the State of New York, and Superintendent Merrill discuss multiple classes in art with Roberta Haney.

in French I and II; these classes go well together, since the French II class has a chance to review what the French I's are just learning. Mrs. Law also teaches a similar set-up in Latin II and III.

Mr. Thomas teaches three math classes at the same time. They are trigonometry, math II, and intermediate algebra. Mr. Parks has combined classes in mechanical drawing, basic art, and advanced art.

Supervised correspondence courses are used for the same purpose as multiple classes to provide for subjects which have small demand. For the past year Ruth Herklotz has been taking a correspondence course in German.

Electronic equipment such as phonographs, Stenorettes, the tape recorder and earphones are available for multiple classes and correspondence courses. Using the tape recorder, the teacher prepares tapes for one group in advance so that in class he may give his attention to the other group.

FLEXIBLE SCHEDULING

Mr. Fowlston attends the study group in flexible scheduling. To try out flexible scheduling, this year we initiated a seven-period schedule. Each class meets four times per week for longer, fifty-minute periods.

This type of scheduling makes it possible for an "X" or "floating" period, set aside each day for music activities, class and club meetings and review classes. Students who are not involved in these go to their regular classes and use the time for review and study.

SHARED SERVICES AND SCHOOL AIDES

To obtain the use of special teachers, small schools

Mr. Thomas' multiple class in intermediate algebra, 11th year mathematics and trigonometry.

The Catskill Project

find it necessary to share teacher services with other schools. Mrs. Keither, Mrs. Hoven and Mrs. Ward work on a shared service basis.

Mrs. Hillis and Mrs. Conant are our school aides. Mrs. Hillis assists Mrs. Bennett in the office, has charge of some study halls, and helps teachers with clerical chores. Mrs. Conant works in the kindergarten and the music department.

SEMINARS

The newest development of the Catskill Project is the seminars for gifted students, given in mathematics, science, and humanities at State University Teachers College, Oneonta.

In the past two years the Project has had remarkable results. Its success is evident from the many visitors who have come to D. L. I. to observe these new techniques in action. We may expect the Project to have an even greater effect in the future.

Franklin Ties For First Place

Franklin outslugged Worcester at Worcester last Thursday in a must game 13-12 to go into a first place tie with them.

Each has a 7-2 record with Worcester's two losses both by Franklin.

Ability to hit the long ball and the clutch relief pitching of Parks told the story. Parks in the bottom of the seventh with one out and the tying and winning runs on second and third got out of it with a pop up and a force out.

Franklin teed off on Doig for four runs in the first and three more in the second for a 7-0 lead, but FCS couldn't hold it. Nevertheless, WCS was never able to knot the score.

Al Shaver and John Parks each had two-run homers. Holoquist and Whigham had triples and Baldwin a double for Franklin. Worcester had a triple and two doubles.

Ten bases on balls by three Franklin pitchers along with timely hitting kept Worcester in contention.

'Twas a bitter day for baseball, but a number of high school teams went at it yesterday notwithstanding.

In a Tri-Valley Eastern battle, Franklin whopped Otego, 7-3 when an error led to a six run Franklin inning in the sixth. Whigham pitched a three hitter for the winners.

Dave Doig of Worcester slammed three hits to plate four runs in leading Worcester to a 6-5 win over Unadilla in another Tri-Valley east contest.

IN THE WESTERN section of the Tri-Valley, Baldwin of South New Berlin and John Tobey of Gilbertsville hooked up in a classy extra-inning pitching duel, won by G'ville, 1-0. Both hurlers tossed four hitters, Baldwin whiffed 14 and Tobey 13. Bob Stearns walked for the winners in the last of the ninth, stole second home.

Tom I. Milfo the star scoring Bob J. Haight's three Milford cott, Stefforts. The winners stole 11 bases.

FCS Assured of Second Place

Franklin racked up its third and fourth straight wins last week by edging Worcester and crushing Otego by scores of 3-2 and 7-3.

With its win over Otego the club assured itself of at least a tie for second with Worcester. Schenevus had a 3-0 record up to this week, but there has been no report of their two games played last week.

Four walks, two errors and two hits enabled Franklin to score six times in the sixth inning to whip Otego and it marked the third straight game in which FCS came from behind to win in the late innings.

Whigham was the winning hurler in both tilts.

Seniors See The Sights Of D. C.

Eighteen seniors and four chaperones spent a cool five days in Washington, April 20-25. They buzzed around the City in a chartered bus, driven by Arthur Brundage of Oneonta. Many of the Seniors also learned the techniques of trolley riding, including, after much experimentation, how to make them stop.

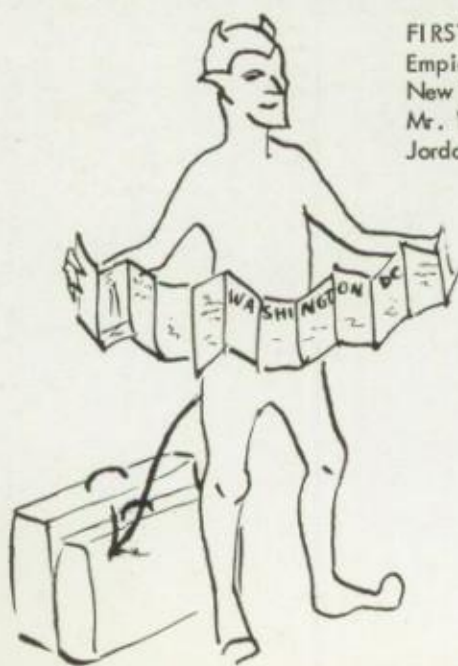

Tuesday, April 21, the Seniors visited Mount Vernon where they were impressed with the way our forefathers lived. That night, at Glen Echo Amusement Park almost everyone's stomach held out in an exciting roller-coaster ride.

Thursday, ten hardy seniors came back gasping for breath after climbing the Washington Monument.

The trip over, the seniors returned on their bus, sleeping and recalling a great time in Washington, D. C.

Graduation

Graduation was the climax of a busy year. The top students of the Class of '59 were Valedictorian Jack Schwille and Salutatorian Ruth Herklotz.

The graduation exercises started Sunday, June 21, with Baccalaureate at the Congregational-Baptist Church. Monday the Seniors received their diplomas in an impressive Commencement ceremony. The main speaker at Commencement was Dr. Ray Jenny, a well-known Presbyterian minister.

Sandy Jordan receives the coveted Yale-Lyon Cup for the best all-round student at D. L. I.
